It is the responsibility of both the manufacturer of finished food contact articles as well as the (industrial) food packer to make sure that these articles under actual conditions of use meet the requirement as defined in Directive 2002/72/EC.

It is the responsibility of the manufacturer of the finished article to check that the additives used, will fully meet the technical requirements of the final article. It is also the responsibility of the manufacturer of the finished food contact article, to provide final users (packers/fillers, also when sold “over the counter”) with adequate instructions for use of these finished food contact articles. This includes instructions for use also to consumers, in case these finished food contact articles are sold for in-house application.
